

Title: Regular black holes in Ricci-based theories of gravity

Abstract: We describe static, spherically symmetric black hole solutions within a family of extensions of General Relativity built out of scalars constructed with the Ricci tensor and the metric, and formulated in metric-affine spaces. We find several classes of regular solutions according to different criteria. Moreover, we apply a recently found method to find rotating black holes and underline some of their main properties.